CLEAN UP! CLEAN UP!

All the world is crying this today.
It saves your Implements, Houses and Barns
From completely ROTTING away.

You insure your buildings against FIRE
Which probably never happens at all.
Your best INSURANCE is Paint,
Which lengthens their life many a fall.

Why spend thousands of dollars on buildings,
Then allow them to rot and decay,
When a FEW dollars spent in good Paint
Will double their life, experts say.

My Paint will save you money.
It is pure as pure can be.
The price is very reasonable.
If you need Paint, call and see me.

Where one paints, ANOTHER soon follows.
It's a case like rolling a ball.
Try and be first in this great campaign.
SAVE THE SURFACE and YOU SAVE ALL.

Accident Near Town.

While Mr Wong Yen was driving in to town from his hog ranch at Glory Hills on Friday last, and when just opposite the Town Park, his team became frightened at the flapping of the curtains on a passing covered wagon. The horses ran away, dumped the wagon over, breaking the reach and throwing Yen into the ditch. The driver was dragged a distance before being released, and narrowly escaped serious injuries. The horses were stopped near the railway tracks. The driver of the van is said to have kept right on, and did not return to the scene of the accident. The matter was investigated by the police.

Death of Mr. Oakley.

On Sunday morning last, April 28, Mr Chas Oakley, an old resident of Graminia, was found dead in his shack by a neighbor, Mr F Hennig. He ceased was 47 years of age, unmarried, and a native of England. He had been ill about seven weeks, having suffered from cholecystitis with jaundice. The doctor that investigated this case several weeks ago requested his removal to a hospital in Edmonton. His next of kin are a brother in Australia and a sister in Japan.

Wherethe Porkers Come From

Mr Conrad Spady, who farms near Bright Bank, last week had five sows "come in" with 45 young ones. This will be a rather lively hog ranch, if this rate keeps up, when his other eleven sows due to farrow this month, have proportionate litters.

Stony Plain and District.

Mrs R Walton of Edmonton visited her son, Dr R A Walton, last week.

Miss Clara Rick of Edmonton, spent the week and in Stony with her sister, Mrs Wm Fehr.

In Stony Plain, on Sunday, April 29, 1923, by Rev K. Eberhardt, Miss Margaret Schmeitz, daughter of Mr and Mrs Edith Schmeitz of Spruce Grove, was united in marriage to Mr. K. Andrew Umstad of Stony Plain.

The successful tenderer for delivering the tamarac poles for the town's electric light system is still making delivery.

A movement is on foot already to have a mail service the coming season between Edmonton, Beach and Stony Plain.

Service will be held in the Methodist Church on Sunday next at 7:30 p.m., Sunday School at 11 a.m. The annual congregational meeting will be held at the close of the evening service, when the reports from each department of the church will be submitted.

Mr Charles H Holling, well known here in connection with School affairs, has moved to his summer residence on the Pete Baron Ranch.

The local High School Cadets played Grades 7 and 6 from Spruce Grove School at baseball last Friday on the local grounds. The attention of the S.P.C.A. has been called to the matter.

Wm Inglis, the telephone engineer, is planning an extension of the phone line from Main street west, to accommodate the dwellers on Cobblers' Row and those on the next street north.

POOR MIKE was rather unfortunate the other morning—having gotten up late, he started to cut bread for a sandwich when he let the knife slip, cutting himself in the pantry!

LOCAL NEWS.

Otto Wudel was up from Wetaskiwin over the week-end.

Mr. Jacob Gebhardt has gone to Jasper.

Mr Grokenburger arrived in Los Angeles on Tuesday.

After a short visit with friends at Connet, Mr Malcolm McKinlay left on Monday for his home at the Sturgeon.

Mr and Mrs Kelly had as visitors on Sunday last Mr John Kelly, from Stettler; and Miss Ramsay and Mr Campbell, from Edmonton.

Mr Bishop is building an elevator at Olds.

The Doll outfit is now in Seattle, running a restaurant.

The regular meeting of the Womens' Institute was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Brooks.

The Rafia Club is working on the big exhibit to be sent to the W. I. Convention in Edmonton.

Several complaints have been made to the Board of Health regarding dogs being kept in the residential district.

Mr A Slater was in Stony on Friday last, collecting for the home for widows and orphans at Junkins, supported by the African M. E. Church.

Several parties of fishermen were out on Sunday last to nearby streams, and report good catches.

The big sale of corsets and blouses at the Miller General Store commences on Saturday next, May 5th.

A movement was on foot this week to bill a dance in town for the evening of the 24th, but in view of the fact that there will be other attractions on that holiday and a barn dance will be held at Miesner's the evening of the 25th, a dance here was considered to be an unprofitable proposition.

The new and more powerful engine at Armbruster's mill was set up on Friday last. The new electric generator is now being installed. This is the machine which it is expected will supply the town's electric lights.

It is reported that an evening journal in a nearby city will equip the baseball team of the local High School the coming season, having heard such good reports of their playing prowess. This will be good news if true!

A National Coal Policy

In an effort to find a solution of the shortage of fuel problem which confronts Ontario and Quebec, the eyes of the people there have of late been directed towards Alberta. People in these Eastern Provinces, have in the past used Pennsylvania hard coal almost to the exclusion of other fuels, and the first step is to educate them in the use of soft coal. Owing to the coal shortage last winter they were glad to get coal of any kind and many people were forced to burn soft coal for the first time, but even it came from the United States.

Recently the Ottawa Journal and the Toronto Star brought coal from Alberta and distributed it at less than cost to a number of people in order to satisfy the East as to the quality of Western fuel, and the Ontario Government has followed the same course. Stern necessity some years ago led the people of Manitoba to become large consumers of Alberta coal. It has proved satisfactory there, and it is safe to say that Manitoba will never again import United States anthracite on the large scale that formerly prevailed. There is no reason to doubt that Alberta coal will prove equally acceptable in Ontario.

As pointed out in last week's article, the obstacle in the way of extensive use of Alberta coal in Ontario is the high cost of transportation—a rate made abnormally high by reason of the lack of return freight shipments from the East to the West, thus forcing the return of coal cars as "empties." United States coal shipments to the West have always enjoyed the advantage of being a return cargo for the lake boats which took cargoes of Western grain down the Great Lakes.

One way of solving Ontario's fuel problem through the use of Alberta coal is for the manufacturers and wholesalers of Eastern Canada to give close and scientific attention to the sentiments of the West and endeavor to develop a larger trade in the West and replace many of the United States products which even a high customs tariff fails to keep out of this country.

A further reduction in the duties imposed on British goods through an extension of the British Preferential Tariff would likewise assist in increasing the volume of freight from the East to the West, and operate to reduce the number of "empties" to be hauled.

It must be admitted that in this way alone sufficient return freight could not be developed. There would always be a large number of "empties" to be returned to the West, especially as in addition to the coal movement to the East, there is the grain movement and the shipment of cattle all in the same direction.

A reduction in the coal rate below the actual cost of haulage is out of the question as it would mean increasing the already heavy deficit in the operation of the National Railways. But would it not pay the Dominion Government, and prove to be sound national policy, if the Government at Ottawa undertook to defray a portion of the cost of coal transportation from the West to the East and thereby cut down the heavy drain of Canadian dollars into the United States for coal?

The use of Alberta coal in Ontario on a large scale would provide employment for thousands of men in the Alberta fields, and would result in a further development there, with increased royalties to the Government. Increased demand for Alberta coal would result in the mines being operated all the year round, instead of being closed down for many months, or operated with small shifts of men. These men demand and must receive exceptionally high wages because they cannot be assured of full time employment. As a consequence the people of the West, with coal almost at their doors, are obliged to pay unreasonably high prices for coal. Steady, all-the-year employment for miners and maximum production would prove a blessing and an economic saving in every direction.

But, objects somebody, if the Dominion Government assumed a percentage of the carrying cost of coal it would be tantamount to bounting the coal industry. But if by so doing Canada's adverse balance of trade with the United States could be partly rectified, Canada's dollars kept at home, the discount on Canada's dollars across the line reduced, Canada's natural resources developed, employment found for Canada's workers, both in the mines and in the work of transportation, and the price of coal to the residents of Canada reduced, not to mention the security to the East which an assured coal supply would bring, would it not all be well worth while and sound national policy?

If the British Government considers it wise to reduce the tax on beer, at an annual loss to the treasury of millions of sterling, on condition that the brewers reduce the selling price of beer by a penny a pint, surely the Dominion Government would be making no mistake in devoting a few millions of dollars to make for itself, with its long and severe winters, a self-contained country in the matter of an adequate fuel supply.

Coal taken from submerged vessels in salt water is found to be much harder, proved as a fuel, leaving but little ashes when burned.

"My Heart Would Palpitate, I Had Weak Spells"

Mrs. L. Whiting, 202 King St. West, Brockville, Ont., writes:

"I took very sick with my nerves and stomach, and seemed to be all run down. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate so and I would take such weak spells in the pit of my stomach that I sometimes thought I had never got better. I had almost given up hope when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I did not stop until I had taken twenty-five boxes. It has done wonders for me and I want to recommend it to everyone."

Coping With the Drug Habit

Lack of Public Institutions for Treating Addicts

One of the principal obstacles to successfully coping with the drug habit in Canada is the lack of public institutions for treating addicts, according to F. W. Cowan, Director of the narcotic Drug Division of the Department of Health. No such institutions exist in Canada. The present system is to send addicts to jail for term, or to the lunatic asylum in violent cases. The provinces, however, are beginning to realize the need for separate institutions or at least wings of hospitals for treating this class of sufferer. Special organizations, as well as medical associations, are giving the matter much attention in Ontario as well as other provinces. Winnipeg, it is understood, is planning such an institution as a civic activity.

In the United States the treatment given in public institutions has proved successful.

Co-operation with the provinces as between local police and the federal police in suppressing the drug traffic is being actively fostered by the health department. Such co-operation exists between the police of Canada and that of the United States and has resulted very beneficially.

Recently a consignment of 1,200 pounds of drugs consigned to Montreal via New York was seized in transit.

TO AVOID PAINS OF RHEUMATISM

This Trouble is Located in the Blood, and Relief Comes Through Better Blood

Rheumatism comes with this, impure blood, and can only be driven out of the system by enriching and purifying the blood.

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. The most successful treatment is the one that quickly banishes this disagreeable symptom. Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in rheumatic troubles is proven by the testimony of Mrs. A. Bryson, Arthur, Ont., who says: "I was so used up with rheumatism in my legs that I could not walk. I could not turn in bed without the help of my husband, and the pain at times was almost unbearable. I tried doctors' medicine which did me little or no good. Then I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and have since been free from rheumatism. I can also recommend the pills to young mothers, as in my own case I found they are unexcelled. I may also add that I recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to a neighbor who took fainting spells at the change of life, and who could not walk any distance. She took the pills for nearly three months and they made her a strong well woman."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Indication Of Prosperity

Prairie Lead Road in Canada in Number of Motor Cars

If ownership of automobiles is an indication of prosperity, the prairie provinces are prosperous. Authentic figures for 1922 show in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba a total of 181,221 of cars, trucks and motor cycles, as compared with 142,974 in 1921, while the totals for all Canada in those two years were 453,462 in 1921, and last year 610,115. Thus on the prairies are approximately one-third of all cars, cycles and trucks in the nine provinces of the Dominion. Alberta records 50,234 for last year, Saskatchewan 56,659, and British Columbia 32,724.

Canadians Use Little Cheese

Canadians stand fairly high in the list as consumers of butter, but they eat comparatively little cheese, probably not over three pounds per head per year, says Dairy Commissioner J. A. Riddick. Some countries use three, four and five times that much. We could add to the consumption of cheese throughout Canada by more careful catering—by putting up cheese in convenient sizes and shapes and by advertising.

New Building Material

Tile for Interior Work Made from Castor Beans

By a recently discovered method the residue of castor oil beans can now be converted into serviceable tiles and bricks for interior building. Hundreds of thousands of tons of residue, being of no value as food stuff for cattle, had been thrown away or used as fertilizer. By a process of compression the waste is now made up into tiles which are both light and tough, and have the added advantage of being warm to walk on. This quality of warmth gives it pronounced superiority over stone tiling, and the cost is scarcely greater than that of stone or mineral composition tiles. In appearance the new building material resembles polished stone.

She Recommends Them to All Who Suffer

AND SINGS THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Quebec Lady is now Strong and healthy, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Henri, Que.—(Special).—The value of Dodd's Kidney Pills is shown by the statement of Madame Roch Martel, a well known resident here.

"After five years of suffering in my back and lower part of my body, I was obliged to take to my bed. I resolved to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes restored me to good health. I am now quite strong and healthy and recommend them to all who suffer."

It is statements like this that have made Dodd's Kidney Pills a household remedy all over Canada.

Ninety per cent. of the ills from which women suffer come from weak or diseased kidneys. They are the organs that strain all the impurities, all the seeds of disease out of the blood. If they fail in this work the impurities remain in the blood and are deposited all over the body. The results show themselves in weakness, weariness, nervousness, headaches, backaches, dropsy and rheumatism.

Dodd's Kidney Pills strike right at the seat of the trouble, the kidneys. Ask your neighbors if all these diseases cannot be avoided by using Dodd's Kidney Pills to strengthen the kidneys.

Canada's Great Opportunity For Putting Cattle Industry On A Good Paying Basis

Though the lifting of the embargo might not cause an immediate rise in beef prices generally, it is Canada's opportunity to put the industry again on a paying basis. It is a British re-organizing to secure the British market, and if Canadians are to get in on the ground floor they must take immediate steps. The market must be entered to and carefully fed by keeping up a steady supply of well finished, good beef-type steers weighing from 1,000 to 1,200 pounds.

"Store cattle" does not signify unfinished cattle. The old country buyer wants cattle already well-finished which he can run on the feeding fields for a few weeks and market as prime Scotch or English beef. His profit comes not so much from the gains the animal can make as from the fact that the cattle are finished in the old country, says F. H. Hoar, Superintendent of the Experimental Farm, Lacombe, Alta.

The greatest difficulty in developing the trade will be for Canadian exporters to find a sufficiently large and steady supply of good beef-type cattle. While the American markets would take any class of cattle, at a price, English and Scotch buyers will not buy poor cattle. This is another strong reason why the scrub bull must go. Good pure bred beef bulls may now be bought at low prices; consequently only such should be used.

It has been repeatedly proved by the Lacombe Experimental Station that there is money in feeding and finishing steers. Steer feeding has been carried on for a number of years at this station, and never at a loss. In 1910, eighteen steers turned over a profit of $16.97 per head. In 1911, twenty steers gave an average profit per head of $23.09, and in 1912, ninety-seven provided a profit of $9.48 per head. For an expenditure of $1,142.77, a return of $2,062.73 was made. The equipment for feeding these steers was not expensive. They were fed in corrals and in a sheltered bluff, with an old stack-bottom to lie on at nights. The feeds used were home-grown oat straw, prairie hay, oats, barley, and one winter, frozen wheat. The steers made excellent gains, and the hay and grain marketed as beef brought nearly twice the prevailing market prices. An important point in the feeding was that water was constantly available, either from a tank with a heater into a trough, or piped in a corner of the corral. In finishing steers on grass, it will pay to feed some grain to harden them for shipping. The shrinkage will be reduced, and the price correspondingly higher.

Dehorned steers were found to pay best. They fed more quietly, made larger gains, and sold for a higher price. Dehorning is a necessity for the export trade, because of the long rail and ocean journey. One carload of horned steers, badly bruised, will be very detrimental to the export business. With a heavy American tariff against our cattle, we must depend on the British market. We can make use of this market by providing a steady supply of well-bred, well-finished, dehorned steers.

Want All Eggs Stamped

English Housewives Trying to Put Bill Through Parliament

Every egg sold in England will be stamped with the country of origin, if the plans of various housewives' organizations to put such a bill through Parliament are successful.

Much interest has been aroused in London recently by the declaration of the National Poultry Council that only about ten per cent. of the eggs sold as new laid eggs come from the provinces of England. It has been shown that huge quantities of eggs are shipped into England every year from Holland, China and Egypt, are mixed with other eggs, and sold as native eggs. Because the foreign eggs are of a better color and larger than English eggs, it is said the retailers are able to sell them more readily than English eggs.

Ever notice how easy it is for a man to be good-natured when everything is coming his way?

How Do You Walk?

Nearly All Pedestrians Will Swerve From Straight Line

How do you walk? Do you prefer to go in a straight line or zigzag from side to side?

If you watch a number of pedestrians you will find that nine out of ten bear to the right, return to their proper course, and then start swerving to the right again.

This is because our right leg is more fully developed and stronger than our left. A left-handed person usually swerves to the left in walking, for in his case the left side is the more powerful.

If a man is slightly deaf in his left ear he will swerve to the left. If his other ear is affected he will go in the opposite direction. This is because the deaf step slightly on the side on which they can hear best.

Shortsighted people will swerve to the side on which they have their worst eye. Even people who are perfectly well physically and whose bodies are evenly developed zigzag in their walk. This is because their thoughts wander and their legs have not sufficient guidance.

You can make an enemy of a friend by convincing him that he's a fool.

For Sheep Industry

Co-operative Firm Gives Out Optimistic Report of Operations

Great prosperity in the sheepbreeding and wool-producing industries in the present year is forecast in a review of the situation received by W. W. Thompson, manager of the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers.

The report, prepared after exhaustive research, stresses the fact that no branch of industry has made such rapid and complete recovery from the vicissitudes of 1920 and 1921, as sheep raising.

"It is not, more than a year," says the report, "since western sheep breeders were in the depths of despair, as to the final outcome of their business. Wool had dropped very rapidly from 70 cents a pound to as low as 15 and 20 cents. Large stocks of wool piled up and mills were running on part-time schedules. The demand and consequently the remunerative prices for good Canadian lambs and auction fell off so sharply that grade and breeding ewes were worth only a third to a half of their former value."

The position of both wool and lambs for 1923 is sound, prices are well advanced from the depressed level of 1921 and in most cases are well advanced over prices of January 1 1911. As far as wool is concerned, from the beginning of 1922 a general demand has steadily forced prices up. Industry has absorbed the whole world production as well as a goodly part of the surplus from the war period. The fine wools favored by fashion received the price benefit first, with medium and low grades neglected during the earlier part of the year. In the last half of the year with the enormously increased consumption, the demand became general for all grades. The whole statistical position of wool to day is good. Values are not so abnormally high that there is likely to be any recession this year at any rate, and every owner of sheep should consider well before disposing of his wool clip at less than its real market value."

"Were you satisfied?" the son asked.

"Of course I was."

The Canadian Horticultural Council believes that Canadian farmers are rapidly learning to appreciate comfortable, beautiful and edifying home surroundings, because it is now beginning to be realized that it pays from a cash standpoint, that it will help country life to be what it should be, the most attractive of all and because it will in no small measure and in conjunction with the rural telephone, rural mail, good roads and help, help to keep the young people at home and contented.

Farming should be, and some day will be, the most independent, attractive and satisfactory profession in all the world, and one of the most important steps towards that end is, that of having the home surroundings just as attractive as those of our citizens who live in the towns and cities. This end can be accomplished much more cheaply and with more beautiful results, as the farmer has everything, including an adequate space to work with.

The appearance of a place is a very safe index to the character of the owner. Poor surroundings, however, and gardens, go hand in hand with unpainted buildings, filthy barnyards and a bare house with grounds unornamented, and yet the majority of our farms are in this condition. In fact, those with really well laid out and well-kept grounds are the exception.

Making the home grounds tidy and well kept, not only adds to the pleasures of life, but it is good business, for it should be remembered that the front yard of the farm is the show window of his place of business. It is also good business because it attracts the buyer for the products of the farm or the farm itself, as everyone likes to trade at a farm or a store that has an appearance of being, up to date, well-kept, of having fresh goods, and we are willing to pay the price for these things rather than take a chance on the others.

It also pays, because well-kept grounds bring better returns out of all proportion to their cost. In fact, in a consideration of this matter, the word "investment" not "expense" should always be thought of. Any farm, the house of which is framed with trees, porches shaded with vines, which possesses a smooth expanse of lawn, the objectionable features hidden from view of trees, shrubs, or vines, has risen in value entirely out of all proportion to the time or money spent on it. Such a place will sell for a great deal more than a neighboring place exactly as good, but in the condition too commonly seen throughout the country today.

And the problem of beautifying the farm is not an expensive one, as it may be so placed as to be of a very ornamental nature and profitable as well. With trees as the main material, plus shrubs, perennials and flowers tastefully placed in clumps and masses around the foundation of the house and in irregular borders, and with some vines to hide the bareness of the walls, the whole picture is changed. A home, not a farm-house, is the result.

Our farm grounds should be improved, if for no other reason than that of the women and the children, to whom the love for beauty appeals even more than it does to men. Make the farm-house and grounds a real home—not an eating or sleeping place, or an adjunct of the barns and other buildings.

Cheese Factory for Moose Jaw

Arrangements are well advanced for the opening in Moose Jaw of the second cheese factory in the province by P. Burns and Company. All the machinery is being shipped from the east by the De Laval Company and it is anticipated that operations will commence some time this month. The present plans call for an output of 500 pounds of cheese daily.

While making a visit to town, a man was knocked down in the street by a motor.

"Are you hurt, my friend?" kindly asked a gentleman, who was first among the rescuers, as he helped the stranger to his feet and brushed the mud and dust from his clothes.

"Well," came the cautious reply, "I ain't done me no good."

THEY WANT TO KNOW ABOUT CANADA

The question as to whether the British people are interested in Canada is quickly answered by this photograph. It is a snapshot of one of 205 lectures on Canada and its future that have been given in Great Britain during the past season. Cinematograph films and lantern slides were shown and in almost every case people were turned away. The photograph was taken at the Free Trade Hall, Manchester during a lecture by Mr. Alfred Ward, of the Canadian Pacific. Over 3,000 were present last November.

"There isn't any, really," she snatched her hands away from him. "I've already tried to explain that I want important news for you; but I won't tell you that I have."

"Why not? We're dry and cozy here," she said.

"Oh, come on," he had driven her to the wall, and now he slipped an arm about her waist and pulled her toward him. "Say, kiss me once—won't you?"

"Hands up, you low-lived bounder!" With an oath, Morán snatched away to find himself staring into the muzzle of Wade's revolver. The ranchman moved his weapon significantly.

"Up!" As the agent's hands went above his head, Dorothy leaped into the wall for support. She had not made a sound, but she was the color of chalk, and her heart seemed to be going to jump out of her mouth. She was no whiter than Wade, whose fury had driven every vestige of color from his face and fired his eyes with a murderous light.

"Shall I kill him?" he asked Dorothy, and at the frightful tone of his voice she found the power to shake her head, although her mouth was too dry for speech.

"Take his gun," said Wade sharply and the girl stepped forward. She reeled toward Morán, who, to do him justice, showed little fear, and pulled his revolver from his hip pocket. She held it out to Wade, who broke it with his free hand by pressing the butt against the top of his forehead, and spilled the cartridges on the floor.

"Now you can leave us, Dorothy," he said quietly.

"No," she said, "I'll stay, Gordon," she answered.

"Morán," Wade continued evenly, without paying any more attention to her, "the only reason why I shall not kill you is because Miss Purnell does not want your worthless life upon her conscience. A man like you ought to die. You're not fit to live."

"Can I put my hands down?"

"No," he said, "where they are!" Wade gestured again with the gun. "I wish I had a string on each of your thumbs so I could twist them higher. I've just been through this sale of yours." The agent started. "I've got those marks of my range in my pocket."

"Much good they'll do you."

they will you dead, and you're going to die. So help me God, you are! We'll come together again some day."

"I hope so," Morán declared venomously, and even Dorothy was struck by the courage he showed.

"And then there won't be anybody to be held responsible but me," Wade grinned in a slow, horrible fashion.

"I'll rest light on me, I promise you. And another thing, I'm going to leave you trussed up here in this office, like I left your friend the Sheriff a few days ago, and alone about morning somebody'll find you and turn you loose."

"When you get loose, you want to forget that you saw Miss Purnell here to-night. I've meant to have her and her mother leave town for a bit unless this mess blows over, but things aren't fixed right for that just in the personal case—the personal care, you understand me, of every decent man in Crawling Water. If anything happens to her, you'll toast over a slow fire before you die. Do you get that?"

"She's a good kid," said Morán, with a grin. Nor did he flinch when the weapon in Wade's hand seemed actually to stiffen under the tension of his grasp.

"Does it feel a good thing you stayed, Dorothy," the latter remarked grimly. "This fellow must be tied up. I wonder what we can find to do it with?"

"My cloak," Dorothy suggested. "It's an old one."

"He should be dead," she said. "It's hard to tear that rain-proof stuff and besides you'd get wet going home. There!"

"Isn't there something else?"

"She dashed a little and turned away for a moment, during which she slipped off her undershirt. Then, as Morán watched her cynically, she tore it into strips. When she had then made several stout bands, Wade spoke again."

"You take the first throw or two you like," he directed, "and when you have him partly tied you can take my gun and I'll finish the job. Start with his feet, that's right. Now draw it tight as you can. Put your arms down back of you."

"The then Morán, Dorothy. That's fine! Here, you take the gun. You know how to use it, if it's a struggle."

Wade lightened up the linen bands, and flicked forward a straight-backed chair, into which he forced Morán and lashed him fast there, to all of which the agent made no great protest, knowing that to do so would be useless. He grunted and swore a bit under his breath, but that was all.

When he was well trussed up, the ranchman made a gasp out of what was left of the linen and his own handkerchief and strapped it to his prisoner's mouth with his belt.

"When the job was done, and it was a good one, he grunted and swore a little, terrible way. A grin that bore no semblance to human mirth, but was a grimace of combined rage and hatred."

Once before, during the fight at the ranch, Bill Santry had seen this expression on his employer's face, but not to the degree that Dorothy now saw it. It frightened her.

"Good night," Wade said ironically, with a last look at Morán.

"Come, we must hurry away."

"Good night," Wade said ironically, with a last look at Morán.

become mere slits in his inflamed and puffy face, showed that for the time he was quite beyond himself. What with his blood skin and distended veins, his puffed lips and shrunken speech, he seemed on the brink of an apopleptic seizure. Rexhill watched him anxiously.

"Come, come, man. Brace up," he burst out, at length. "You'll kill yourself, if you go on that way. Be a man."

The words seemed to have their effect, for the agent made a supreme effort at the self-control which was seldom lacking in him. He appeared to seize the reins of self-government and to force himself into a state of unnatural quiet, as one takes a frantic horse.

"The safe!" he muttered hoarsely, scrambling to his feet.

His stiffened legs still refused to function, however, and Rexhill, hastening to the safe, threw open the door. One glance at the disordered interior told him the whole story. Morán watched feverishly as he dragged the crumpled papers out on the floor and pawed through them.

"Gone!"

"The looked at each other, a thin tide of crimson brightening the congestion of Morán's visage, while Rexhill's face went ghastly white. With shaking fingers, the agent poured into a third drink and tossed it down his throat."

"It was Wade who told you up?"

"Morán nodded."

"And that girl—the Purnell girl?"

"Stirred more by the other's expression of contempt than by the full half pint of whiskey he had imbibed, he crashed his fist down on the desk."

"Mind what you say now, because, by God, I'm in no mood to be trifled with by you. He got the drop on me, you understand. Let it go at that."

"It's gone right enough—all gone," Rexhill growled. "Why, he only needs to pull those lips to make this a personal fight between us and every property owner in the valley."

Salt Production in Canada

Immense Deposits of Glauber Salts in Saskatchewan

In 1922 Canada produced 2,418 tons of salt cake, valued at $54,804, and 1,329 tons of glauber salts, valued at $42,710 according to government figures. There are a number of immense deposits of glauber salt in Saskatchewan which at the present time, are only in the initial stages of development, but it is anticipated that the next few years will see a considerable increase in production.

I tried many medicines and doctors, but none of them did me any good for any length of time. I got so bad, in the Fall of 1919, my hands were so shaky I could scarcely hold anything, and it seemed as if I had a steel band pressing on my head. The least excitement would almost drive me into fits, and my whole system seemed to be in disorder. I had cramps in my legs nearly every night, and not and the girl stepped forward."

New Microscope Perfected

Will Dissent Matter? That is Inevitable to the Naked Eye

A micro-visualization apparatus, governed by finely adjusted screws, whose work is so delicate and minutely exact as to enable it to dissect living human cells which are actually invisible to the naked eye, has been perfected by Prof. C. E. Tharaldsen, of the Department of Zoology of the University of Toronto, according to an announcement made at the university.

"For years scientists have been making repeated attempts to break through the barriers surrounding the invisible protoplasm which make up the human body, on the theory that once the complete basis cell is perfectly understood, the control of the greater machine will be vastly expedited," says the announcement, which adds: "The new invention accomplishes this."

The little device can be held in the palm of one hand. It is of brass, with various screws manipulating the arms, which in turn govern glass needles and pipettes that literally cut the living cells which are suspended in a hanging drop of nutrient fluid under the lens of a microscope.

A year ago Professor Tharaldsen invented a paraffin oven which greatly simplified the work of research in laboratories. None of his inventions, he says, will be sold for his personal profit, but will be turned over to humanity for whatever good use they will serve.

CHAPTER XIII. Into The Depths

"Good Lord, Race! What's happened?"

Senator Rexhill, on the next morning, surprised that Morán did not show up at the hotel, had gone in search of him, and was dumbfounded when he entered the office.

Morán, in his desperate efforts to free himself, had upset the chair into which he was tied, and being unable to right it again, had passed most of the night in a position of extreme discomfort. Toward morning, his confinement had become positive agony, and he had inwardly raved at Wade, the gas in his mouth making audible expression impossible, until he was black in the face.

"My God, Race!" the Senator exclaimed, when, having cut the lashings and withdrawn the gag, he saw his agent in a state bordering on collapse. "What has happened to you?"

He leaped the man to his feet and held him up.

"My throat—dry—whiskey!" Morán gasped, and grunted as he clutched the desk, from which he slid into a chair, where he sat rubbing his legs, which ached with a thousand pains.

Rexhill found a bottle of whiskey and a glass on a shelf in the closet. He poured out a generous drink of the liquor and handed it to Morán, but the agent could not hold it in his swollen fingers. The Senator picked up the glass, which had not broken in its fall and, refilling it, held it to Morán's lips. It was a stiff drink, but at the time it was repeated, the agent was revived somewhat.

"Now tell me," urged Rexhill. "Prepared though he was for an outburst of fury, he was amazed at the torrent of blasphemous words which Morán uttered. He caught Wade's name, but the rest was mere incoherence, so wildly mumbled and so fast that he began to wonder if torture had unbalanced the man's mind. The expression of Morán's eyes, which had

Says Oriental Problem In Canada Calls For Rigid Immigration Laws

Ottawa.—The greatest ally of the Oriental in entering Canada has been the apathy of the easterner, who persistently has refrained from carefully studying the situation, and who has always looked on the appeals of the British Columbia as being of a political nature and not taken this whole matter very seriously, according to Hon. Dr. S. F. Tominie, member for Victoria in the Federal House, and a member of the Western Government.

Dr. Tominie, in an interview with the Canadian Press, went on to say that in spite of British Columbia legislation, backed to the limit by business organizations and various associations, the people of the coast province have been met in the east by "procrustean" politicians, who have failed to give us legislation that would properly meet the situation, and no single party is more to blame than the other in this particular respect.

The result has been that they have seen "ad hoc" legislation, half-way measures, jelly fishing for fear of hurting the feelings of the Orientals, until the Chinese question, once a very simple one, is now developed into an oriental problem that is very difficult to meet.

"I want to say that this country and its representatives must wake up if we are to preserve Canada as a white man's country to be enjoyed by future generations.

Referring to a bill which is scheduled to come before the Commons at any time now, Dr. Tominie said that "it proposes to leave wide open the entry of merchants into Canada."

"Anyone," he said, "familiar with the situation on the coast must know that we have too many Chinese merchants in this country now, and their competition is very keenly felt by those of our own race in the same line of business."

The clause covering merchants, he said, also will lead to a great deal of misrepresentation. "Experience of immigration agents in the past clearly shows that no loopholes should be left."

"There is only one kind of law to pass, and that is a law which means total exclusion, with the exception of permitting trade under proper regulations," he declared.

Dr. Tominie reiterated that the Asiatic is not a desirable settler, that he will not assimilate, and if Canadians are to compete with him they must entirely change their standard of living. He urges that Canada profit by the experience of the United States, where, he said, much more severe immigration laws were passed after many thousands of immigrants of a low type had gained access to that country.

Shortage Of Farm Labor

Many Workers Required by Farmers In Western Provinces

Winnipeg.—With few men leaving British Columbia for farm work this spring, a widespread shortage in the supply of farm labor is reported from the three prairie provinces.

Two thousand workers are required by the farmers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, each province having 1,000 unfilled applications, while Alberta is also asking for outside assistance. The Regina, Moose Jaw and Saskatchewan districts can place 500 at once, according to G. E. Tomsett, Saskatchewan Superintendent of the Employment Service of Canada, who discussed the situation here with the Dominion Western Superintendent, Major L. F. Howard. The pay offered in the applications, from Regina, Moose Jaw and Saskatoon districts range from $50 to $55 per month, with the usual daily bonus being granted during harvest. Mr. Tomsett said other Saskatchewan districts want farm helpers at wages ranging from $40 to $45 per month until harvest time, when the bonus will be paid.

An Excellent Fuel

Says Ontario People Fully Satisfied With Alberta Coal

Ottawa.—According to George R. Pratt, Fuel Engineer for Alberta, who is here supervising demonstrations of Alberta coal, the people of Ontario are fully satisfied that Alberta coal is an excellent fuel and would meet the requirements hitherto filled by American anthracite. He declares individuals testing the coal had reported very favorably. The difficulty at the present time was the delay of railway companies in reaching a decision as to freight rates. Speedy action was required, he said, if arrangements were to be made for shipments of coal during the summer months.

Prospective Loan For Persia

U.S. Syndicate May Help Angora Government, Says Report

London.—The loan which a United States syndicate is reported to be considering for the Persian Government would, it made, take the place of that contemplated by Great Britain under the Anglo-Persian agreement which Persia failed to ratify two years ago, according to the diplomatic correspondence of the Daily Telegraph. The writer, who recently professed to have learned of the prospective loan, suggests that knowledge of these negotiations may have prompted the Turkish Nationalist Government to an immediate substantial advance from the Chester syndicate. This request, the correspondent adds, possibly accounts for reported differences between members of the syndicate. The writer asserts that the Angora Government is in a bad financial position.

Britain Sends Largest Number of Emigrants

3,570 Came to Canada From United Kingdom in March

Ottawa.—Immigration increased 22 per cent. during March as compared with March of the previous year. Of 6,748 immigrants last month 3,570 are British and 1,661 from the United States. In March of last year immigrants totalled 5,548 of which 1,504 were British and 2,670 from the United States.

For the twelve months ending March, total immigration was 72,887—a decrease of 19 per cent. in comparison with the corresponding 12 months previous.

FUTURE CANADIAN CITIZENS

These four sturdy English boys are arriving in Canada on the Montcalm to study western farming methods. In the Daily Mail competition conducted among all the Young Farmers' Clubs of the British Isles they were adjudged the prize winners. Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has given them the opportunity of visiting Canada and studying Canadian agriculture. They will spend the summer at the Agricultural College at Olds, Alberta, and return to their homes in the fall. Heading from right to left the lucky youths are: Leonard Grimmer, Clifford White, Gordon Satter and Joseph Murray.

Commission To Inquire Into Grain Trade May Consist Of Three Members

Capture U.S. Fishing Vessel

Canadian Boat Fires on American Schooner When Order to Stop Is Ignored

Ottawa.—Details of the capture of the United States fishing schooner Silcom, of Seattle, were made public by the Marine Department. The statement says the fishery protection steamer Malaspina (Captain Newcombe), sighted the Silcom engaged in fishing within one mile of Solander Island, about a mile off the west coast of Vancouver Island, near Cape Cook. When no attention was paid to the Malaspina's three whistles, the usual signal to stop, the Malaspina fired three blanks across the bow of the schooner. The latter continued, two solid shots were then fired, but missed, after which the Malaspina ranged alongside and demanded that the schooner stop, warning the captain that if these instructions were not obeyed, the vessel would be sunk. The schooner insisted on paying no attention to this warning, consequently no alternative was left to the captain of the Malaspina but to fire a rifle volley at the pilot house, resulting in one of the crew being hit in the shoulder. The schooner then stopped, and the crew brought the wounded man on board the Malaspina. The schooner's boat then headed for the shore. The Malaspina lowered a boat at once and a line was on board the schooner, when it was discovered that the crew had scuttled her before leaving.

Must Make Offer to Paris

London.—The prospect of Germany making a definite reparations offer, especially with reference to a settlement of the Ruhr situation, is widely discussed in the press. The view is generally taken that recent utterances of German statesmen and comments by German newspapers point to the likelihood that an important pronouncement on this subject will be forthcoming from Berlin in the near future. Opinions differ as to whether such a pronouncement would contain an outright offer in figures. It has been hinted here that Lord Curzon has suggested to Germany a sum which would be acceptable to the Allies, but the Times professes the ability to deny this report. The newspaper also gives utterances of Allied statesmen showing that any offer of settlement in the Ruhr must be made directly to Paris and not to London or elsewhere.

Ottawa.—The commission which is to inquire into the grain trade will be appointed very shortly, and it will be smaller in its size than was originally planned. Representations have been made to the Government for the selection of a fairly large committee, representing all the interests in the grain producing and handling trades. This would have comprised about six members.

The Government has considered the matter and has come to the conclusion that a smaller commission is preferable. The commission is likely to consist of but three members and be divorced completely from the trades affected.

The chairman, it is believed, will come from Saskatchewan.

Toronto.—Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, read to the Legislature a telegram from the Minister of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa, stating what he was prepared to recommend to the Dominion Cabinet as the basis and scope of the proposed Royal Commission inquiry into the grain trade. The inquiry was to be into the grading and weighing, storing and handling of grain in and out by country elevators, and in country points and terminal elevators, either public or private, disposition of screenings and other questions incident to the selling and transportation of grain.

The words contained in the telegram from Ottawa, to Mr. Doherty are to be placed as a preamble in a bill to provide for a grain inquiry, so that when the specific inquiry is over the powers granted in Mr. Doherty's bill shall lapse.

Weekly News Bulletin.

Issued by the Provincial Publicity Commissioner: The dates of the annual convention of the Alberta Women's Institutes have been set for May 28 to 31 inclusive, this event to take place at the University of Alberta, Edmonton.

The W. I. Convention will be preceded by that of the W.I. Girls' Clubs, to be held at the same place the two previous days.

This was decided by the Provincial Advisory Board, which met with Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture; H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister, and Miss Jessie
McMillan, Director of extension Service, last week in Edmonton. The following speakers have consented to address the convention: Hon
G Hoadley, Mr H A Craig,
Mrs A Murphy, Mrs Nellie McClung.

There will be an exhibit of health posters, work from the Women's Exchange at Edmonton, and a handicraft display from Stony Plain. It is hoped that a millinery and dressmaking exhibit may be obtained from one of the agricultural schools for this occasion.

The Provincial Fund, which is being raised to provide the railway fare for one delegate from each branch, has been coming in rather slowly, and prospects are that this will only be sufficient to cover one-half the railway fare from each branch. Institutes are urged to send in their allotment as soon as possible.

The delegate will be billeted at the University of Alberta at a cost of Two Dollars and a half per day, while the convention meetings will be held in Convention Hall.

Every Institute is urged to send in at least one delegate to the convention, as the program this year is considered by the Advisory Board to be one of the most interesting and inspirational planned yet.

Those who attended the Board meeting included the president,
Mrs. J. N. Beaulieu; Secretary
Treasurer, Mrs. A. H. Rogers;
Directors, Mrs. C. A. Gates, Mrs.
P. Hughes, Mrs. W. Hayek; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. J. P. Price; and the president of the Girls'
Clubs, Miss Minnie Page. Mrs.
Jas. Boyd and Mrs. W. Stewart of Peace River were unable to be present.

of the sale without interest. In all other respects the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of the Supreme Court as approved by the Master in Chambers.

Further particulars may be had from Messrs. Dickson & Paterson,
Barristers, etc., 503 Tegner Building,
Edmonton.

Dated at Edmonton, Alberta, this 6th day of April, A.D. 1923.

A 500 mile cruise in Ocean waters, via Grand Trunk Pacific steamships, from Vancouver to Alaska Coast, along the "Inside Passage," affords all the delights of ocean travel combined with superb scenery. It is impossible to overestimate the value of a sea trip as a restorative for tired mind and body. Seated on the spacious decks of the S.S. Prince Rupert or S.S. Prince George, looking over the wild waste of waters, inhaling the invigorating purity of salt sea air, one is enraptured by the subtle presence of the sea, the languid swell of the waves, and the wash of the water against the ship's side. The above picture gives an inkling of the jolly times spent on board one of these palatial steamships; every hour being filled with enjoyment, whether spent in contemplation of the glories of nature or in the happy social life which develops as the journey proceeds, with deck games, concerts and dancing.

Hamilton, Ont.—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine I have ever known for the building up of girls and women who are run down in health. It has been taken by different members of my family with great success. My daughter has been wonderfully helped during motherhood by taking Favorite Prescription. It is the best medicine the expectant mother can take for health and strength. And after having the influenza my granddaughter was left in a very bad way and nothing in the way of medicine gave her any help until she began taking Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and then the use of this medicine her health was completely restored, and she is as well as ever.

A Gigantic Parade

Raisin Day Celebration at Fresno, California, Proves Big Attraction

A gigantic parade eight miles long inaugurated the fifteenth annual Raisin Day Celebration at Fresno, Cal., April 26. Nearly every community, civil and military organization in the raisin district was represented in the parade. The unusual floats cost over $60,000. Many handsome trophies were awarded for the best floats and marching delegations.

One division of this monstrous parade was the 1923 raisin pageant. "From the Garden of Eden to the Garden of the Sun." It was said last year that not even the great parades of the New Orleans Mardi Gras, or the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, surpassed the grandeur of Raisin Day pageantry. The parade this year was even greater in size and beauty.

The Queen of Raisin Day this year was Miss Marie Girard, a California beauty from Delano, Kern County, a new raisin district.

A Noble Memorial.
British Raid at Zebruggo One of the Most Brilliant Deeds of Naval History

The foundation stone of what will be a noble memorial to the famous British raid staged at Zebruggo in war time, was laid by the Governor of West Flanders, in the presence of a distinguished Anglo-Belgian company, including Admiral Sir Roger Keys, Lord Durham, Lord Emmott, the British Ambassador, Sir George Graham, and the Belgian Minister of Public Works.

The memorial, which will stand near the shore of the Zeebrugg, will take the form of a granite column, 70 feet high, surmounted by a figure of St. George slaying the dragon. It will be visible far out at sea and will be inscribed on the side facing the sea with the words "St. George for England," and also "United for Justice." Likewise on the monument will appear the names of the British who fell in the action and also the names of the participating warships.

The governor, when performing the ceremony, described the landing of the British in the face of the German fire as one of the most brilliant deeds of naval history.

Record Made By Amateurs in Relaying Radio Message

A radio message was relayed across the continent by Canadian amateurs on three consecutive nights of amateur test, according to a telegram received at the headquarters of the American Radio Relay League.

The best record was the relaying of a message from the station operated by O. Ball, Montreal, to the station operated by W. F. Reeves, Duncan, Vancouver Island, and return, in 23 minutes.

It was the custom of the congregation to repeat the 23rd Psalm in concert and Mrs. Armstrong's habit was to keep about a dozen words ahead all the way through.

Seed Control Act

Will Extend Compulsory Grading to All Kinds of Grass and Clover Seed

The Seed Control Act, administered by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, is undergoing amendment at the present session of Parliament. The amending bill, after receiving the approval of the Agricultural Committee, has had its second reading in the House of Commons. The original act provides for the compulsory grading only of timothy, alfalfa, red clover and alfalfa. The grades of these seeds recognized are: "Extra No. 1," "No. 1," "No. 2," "No. 3," and "Rejected." The amended act will extend compulsory grading to all kinds of grass and clover seed, fescue, sorghum, millet, wheat, oats, barley, rye, corn, buckwheat, sunflower, field peas, vetches and vetches. Provisions are made for including seeds of other kinds of farm crops. The bill also provides for the optional grading for commerce of field roots and garden vegetable seeds. Farmers selling seed on their own premises will not be required to grade seed grain. Grass seed and clover seed, however, sold from the farm must have been officially tested and graded on the basis of a control sample.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on aching corn, instantly it's gone. No need to cut, no need to burn, no need to hurt. You lift it right off with your fingers.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove even the hardest corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, and the caluses, without soreness or irritation.

That seeds are carried from land to land on the feet of migrating birds is a fact well established. Darwin, the great naturalist, has left it on record that in six and three-quarter ounces of soil taken from the feet of migrating birds he raised, under glass, no fewer than 637 plants.

The indications of worms are restlessness, grinding of the teeth, picking of the nose, extreme peevishness, often convulsions. Under these conditions one of the best remedies that can be got is Miller's Worm Powder. They will attack the worms as soon as administered and they pass away in the evacuations. The little sufferer will be immediately eased and a return of the attack will not be likely.

It is stated that nearly 4,000,000 trees a year are needed to keep up the telegraph and telephone wires of the Dominion. Here's a chance for radio to save the forest.

Strangled with Asthma is the only expression that seems to convey what is endured from an attack of this trouble. The relief, however, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is beyond measure. Where all was suffering there comes comfort and rest. Breathing becomes normal and the bronchial tubes completely cleared. This unequalled remedy is worth many times its price to all who use it.

Feminists, take note. The total trade of the Dominion for the eleven months of the current fiscal year shows an increase of $216,000,000 above the figures for the corresponding period last year.

In Cornwall there is a tradition that King Arthur still lives in the form of a raven, and that one day he will be changed back to a man again, and all England will ring once more with his fame.

Mindard's Liniment for Aches and Pains

MRS. A. HARBACH GAINED 24 POUNDS

Declares Tanlac Restored Her Completely When Health Was Practically Destroyed

"The Tanlac treatment restored my health and strength and increased my weight twenty-four pounds two years ago, and I am one of the happiest women in Canada, for I have been feeling fine ever since," declares Mrs. Alice Harbach, highly esteemed resident of 26 Dundas St. W., London, Ont.

"I was so nervous I trembled like one with the palsy and feared a complete breakdown. I couldn't relish my food, many days I didn't eat a thing, and lost weight until my clothes were way too large for me. I had piercing headaches, so weak I would give out before the middle of the day, and at night just seemed to hear the clock strike every hour. I suffered more agony than tongue can tell.

"But Tanlac ended all my troubles, and if I had my say I would put a bottle of Tanlac in every home, for its everlasting gratitude, and I will always praise it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 27 million bottles sold.

Alberta Coal Production

More Coal Mined in 1922 Than in Preceding Year

Although figures are not yet available for coal production in Nova Scotia, the greatly increased tonnage from Alberta last year put this province in the lead as the heaviest coal producing province in the Dominion. More coal was mined in Alberta in 1922 than in the year preceding by 35,549 tons. The figures for the year, which have been compiled by the provincial department of mines, were 377,544 tons, as compared with 341,995 tons in 1921.

Ready-Made Medicine—You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable. For bruises, sprains it is unsurpassed; while for cuts, sores and the like it is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

Re Cream Shipments.

A delegation from several of the U. F. Locals in this district, interviewed Dairy Commissioner Marker on Monday regarding rates and grades on cream shipments from this point. The delegation was composed of Messrs Adam Wolf, A Klapper and T Scott.

The delegation cited a case where a producer was discriminated against by shipping thru a local agent, the producer having on two occasions received a much better grading when he made delivery of the cream in Edmonton himself.

The unfair and arbitrary express rates charged by the railways on cream shipments was also gone into, and these Mr Marker promised would be remedied, if in the power of his department.

The Commissioner said it was being arranged by his department to give a cream testing demonstration in Stony so soon as the busy season on the farms had passed.

The delegation expressed satisfaction at the success of their mission and withdrew.
